

WHO KNEW THAT WAS THERE for 2019

Many motorcyclists know little about some of the off-the-wall destinations that are spread across Indiana. The riding season in 2019 is therefore an opportunity to get out and explore some of those. The challenge is for each person to explore our state as an individual and learn what's really there to see and find interesting.

The POINTS OF INTEREST form is provided with a column on the left side so riders can keep a record of the date they visited a destination. Taking a selfie or picture of your bike while at each location is encouraged also. Pictures verify you were there but they also can be used to encourage others to want to go out and see the things we have enjoyed.

A $100 prize will be given to one individual who visits a minimum of sixteen of the locations between 4/1/19 and 10/31/19. A $25 second prize will also be given. The winners of the two money awards will be determined by a drawing from all the names of those who have visited a minimum of sixteen of the destinations.

The member does not have to go into a location, purchase admission ticket, eat there, or do anything other than actually visit the location. They are encouraged though to take advantage of being there and to enjoy what the location represents. A Google search often helps a person understand the reason the location was put on the list and can make the visit more interesting.

Let's ride and enjoy seeing what's in Indiana. Riders can then fill out the date of their visits and scan the filled out sheets to mocpath@comcast.net. They can also be mailed to Lonny Hunter, 1123 E 650 S, Markleville, IN 46056.

PS. There is in some situations an * and no destination. If you know of an interesting site in that county that you think others might want to visit, notify Lonny and let's get the list updated.
